PROJECTS

The Maze Game — Terminal RPG · Python
A modular text-based RPG built in pure Python (12+ modules) with an object-oriented item system using class inheritance and a custom exception hierarchy for crash-free play.

ClaWus — Claude Usage Widget · Windows app
github.com/hero-999-dev/ClaWus-Claude-Usage-Widget
A lightweight Windows system-tray app (Python) that signals the best time to use Claude with a color-coded dot, mapping US server-load patterns to a weekly schedule with per-task recommendations. Packaged as a one-click Windows installer and built with AI-assisted development.

SplitExec — Video Splitter · Windows app github.com/hero-999-dev/SplitExec-Video-Splitter-For-Discord-And-Other-Platforms
A Windows desktop app (Python, Tkinter) that splits large videos into multi-volume 7-Zip archives sized to platform upload limits such as Discord, using lossless store-mode for instant splitting. Features a drag-and-drop interface with size presets, ships with its own dark-themed installer, and was built with AI-assisted development.

pixel_pomo — Pixel-Art Pomodoro Timer · Android & iOS github.com/hero-999-dev/pixel_pomo
A cross-platform pixel-art Pomodoro app (Flutter / Dart — one codebase for Android and iOS) with a custom 2.5D garden rendering engine, native-Kotlin live wallpaper and app-blocker, session statistics, and six languages. Built with AI-assisted development.
